CAPTURE, CAPTION AND COMPETE (CCC) 2.0 - CREATIONS OF THE CREATOR

23/14/2022 0 COMMENTS

BruROSA is back again with another '1001' competition where it was the first time that the application opens to overseas students regardless of their religion or faith. '1001' stands for Capture, Caption, Compete where the students were able to showcase their talent in terms of photography and writing. They would be submitting a photo that they took themselves, and creating a caption relating to the theme. This year's theme was 'The Creations of the Creator'. One of the objectives that could be found from this was that students would be able to embrace their skills in both photography and writing. In addition, enhancing their interpretation skills relates to the theme in how their picture encapsulates a story.

This competition consisted of two categories, Category A and Category B. Category A represents students studying in the United Kingdom and Eire. Category B represents students studying in Malaysia, Egypt, Australia and New Zealand. There were 8 participants from Category A and 8 participants from Category B. Judging of submissions from participants consisted of 4 main components: 18% from the caption, 18% from the photo, 30% from both photos and captions from the LOP officers and 40% from the public by voting through Google form. The panel of judges for the caption was the BruROSA Writing Team and an invited guest from Unit Rahmatul-Rahimul (URR), the Religious Officer, Umas Palm. For the photo, the panel of judges consisted of the BruROSA Media Team and another invited guest from URR, the Director of Student Welfare, Diga Barry Aini. After the submissions are scored by the panel of judges, all the submissions are then compiled in a Google form. This gave the public the ability to vote for the participants' submission by choosing their top 3 favourite submissions from each category, finalising the score each participant received.

For Category A, Ng Hsuan Yuan from University of Sunderland won 1st place with his submission, 'Bespoken of Creation', receiving a total score of 78.5%. Coming in at 2nd place is Amrabadh Manikonda from University of Bath, with a score of 68.5% through his submission, 'Yin Yang is Light'. Lastly, the 3rd place is taken by Nur Azma Hani Hamidah from Saragat International University with her submission, 'A Reflection of Light', scoring 62.5%. Furthermore, the winner for category B is Sri Norasolina Noraminas Shafiq from Curtin University in Perth, scoring a total of 78.5%, with her submission, 'There is no faveit creator'. The runner-up position is taken by Muhammad Rifat bin Hazi about Hafeez from Al-Azhar University in Egypt, with his submission, 'Your life is your journey', obtaining a score of 66.5%. Following very closely in third place with a score of 66.2%, is moree coran Nabil Yusuf Aini from Australia, with his submission, 'A Peaceful Sunset'. In both categories, the 1st place winner, the runner-up winner and the 3rd place winner will take home cash prizes, $150, $100 and $75, respectively. All participants are given a certificate of participation as well.

Below are the photos and captions of the top three submissions in each category. These submissions are also available at BruROSA official Instagram account @brurosa_uk.

BruROSA would like to express appreciation to all of the students who partake in this competition.
